The City of Phoenix was concerned with possible short-circuiting problems at the Union Hills and Val Vista Water Treatment Plant reservoirs. Chemical tracer tests conducted by the plant personnel confirmed that the reservoirs were short circuiting and the  $T_{10}/T$  values were 0.1.

It is written to raise awareness, explain why particular design features are needed, and to give basic guidance on the most important ones. If housing is designed well, it can extend the amount of time a ...

Abstract. In this paper, the main factors impacting the plug flow pattern of a clearwell were investigated by integrating pilot-scale, full-scale clearwell tracer testing and computational fluid dynamics (CFD) simulation.
